Thanks to Assemblyman Groves for a bundle of bills.

S. P. Davis of the Carson Appeal left for San Francisco last night.

F. Lemmon of Spanish Springs Valley arrived in town yesterday.

Truckee Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F. will hold its regular meeting this evening.

C. T. Bender and Judge Webster returned from a trip to Lovelocks last night.

Assemblymen Thompson and Leeper, and Regent George and Fred Danberg arrived from Carson last night.

The Enterprise, with a wink at the bosses and a nod at the Legislature, says loyalty to a party is treason to the people.

The Advocate says the sentiment in Lander county is strongly against the bill to create a State Board of Assessors and Equalization.

Nothing is left of Tia Juana, on the Lower California border. Debris covers the place where the village stood to the depth of several feet.

The streets are as muddy as water can make them and the roads outside of town are reported as being in the same condition save where sand predominates.

Dan McFarlane, who was crazed by the runaway near Pioche recently, in which Findlay was killed, has yet no recollection of the affair and is little if any better.

The Advocate learns that the sickness in Hon. T. J. Bell's family at Cloverdale, Nye county, from which one of his children died, was caused by the eating of poisoned canned tomatoes.

Lenten services will be resumed at Trinity Church to-day at 4 p. m. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday morning prayer at 8 a. m. On Friday at 7 p. m. Litany and address.

In the Osborne divorce case Judge Rising decreed that the defendant should pay the plaintiff $70 per month alimony and that the plaintiff should retain the custody of the two children.

Our accommodating Postmaster, which is Nesby, has extended the limit for closing the northern mails from 8:30 to 9 o'clock a. m. This is one of the benefits the public derive from having a postal clerk on the N. & C. railroad.

District Court convened yesterday at Winnemucca, Judge Fitzgerald presiding. The case of R. W. Lewis, indicted for the murder of A. H. Ruse, and the case of Robert Burge, indicted for assault on James Ritchie, are up for trial.

A Carson dispatch announces the death of E. Clement, better known as "Yank" a pioneer of Lake Tahoe, where he had resided for thirty years or more. He was over eighty years of age and was well known to tourists who visited Lake Tahoe.

At the annual election of the Reno Guards the following named officers were chosen: Captain, C. H. Stoddard; First Lieutenant, F. H. Norcross; Second Lieutenant, H. Cutting; Third Lieutenant, A. C. Helms; Orderly Sergeant, J. Y. Barub; Secretary, C. H. Burke; Treasurer, E. C. Phelps.

Destructive winter thunder-storms accompanied by lightning, visited New Bedford, Mass., and vicinity last Saturday. At South Dartmouth, Dartmouth, Westport Point and Mattapoisett, the lightning played havoc, destroying no less than six buildings and causing serious injury to two churches, one valued at $8,000 being demolished.

The grippe has a firm hold in Pioche. The White Pine News says P. C. Weber received a letter from there Wednesday stating that four deaths had occurred there and one in Bristol within twenty-four hours the latter part of last week from pneumonia. Among the deaths was J. C. Kelley, County Clerk. Nearly everybody was sick, and Dr. Louder was not expected to live.

The Sierra Valley Leader of last Friday says: "A heavy rain storm set in here last Saturday evening and it lasted all day Sunday. Monday morning it began to snow and with the wind and drifting snow all day Monday and all day Tuesday the worst weather of this season was experienced. About two feet of snow was on the ground here on Tuesday night." This does not include the rain and snow of last Saturday and Sunday.

The New York Sun says: "A well-known New Yorker dining in an uptown restaurant the other day suddenly turned aside from the table, excused himself to his companions, and, stooping over a glass of water, seemed to cover it with his mouth and to bend himself almost double. 'What on earth are you doing?' was asked. 'O, merely drinking out of the further side of my glass.' No one can explain why it is so, but that will stop a hiccup instantly."

The Carson Tribune, which has been as silent as a clam on legislative matters, has at last expressed an opinion, which reads as if it had been inspired by the bosses. It says: "The moneyed men and cattle barons of Washoe county are opposed to the Board of Equalization, but the rank and file favor it." The rank and file of Washoe county know that the Tribune does not know what it is talking about.

HUMBOLDT ANTIMONY MINES.

Several Companies Engaged in Working Them.

Silver State: The antimony mines of Humboldt county are looking up of late. Messrs. Nelson, Boyer and Johnson have relocated the old Evans antimony mine at Unionville and have fine prospects ahead. Some ten or twelve years ago this mine was furnishing quite a lot of ore, which averaged about $55 to the ton. The boys feel confident that the mine will pay them wages. The Star City antimony mine, owned by Phillips, Bray and others, is being worked constantly, and has been for the last four or five years. The boys ship ten or twelve carloads every year which yields from $45 to $50 per ton. With plenty of ore in sight this is a good property. The Bloody Canyon antimony mine, owned by John Taylor, is still showing good ore and probably averages better than any mine in the country. The Hutchins mine, opposite Lovelocks, is showing well with a good body in sight and plenty of it. The Hutchins Company propose to put a plant for reducing their own ore, as the parties owning the property have plenty of money behind them. There are several other mines in the vicinity of Lovelocks that are of considerable value.

Honey Lake Water Company.

W. A. Clark, the originator and one of the owners of the Skeddaddle dam, which was washed out recently, arrived from Honey Lake Valley yesterday. He says the dam broke because of defective construction, the foundation having been laid on shelf rock on one side.

The company which owns the dam is composed of prominent San Francisco merchants, each of whom entered a section of land under the Desert Land Act. They own collectively thirty-two sections of land, which, by a system of irrigating ditches, can be reclaimed by water from living streams. Each member owns his section, and intends to cultivate it. The dam cost $20,000, the object of storing the water being to secure a supply late in the season to raise a second and third crop of alfalfa. This year the ground is thoroughly wetted by irrigating ditches, and will produce at least one crop of grain or hay. Meantime, the dam will be rebuilt in time to store water for next year.

The whole irrigating system cost $35,000, and the success of the company will be of great benefit to Lassen county, and, in fact, to the whole northern country. The claimants of the land expect to get government title to the land by reason of the ditch irrigation already established, and should they do so, they will fence the land immediately.

A REMARKABLE DEATH SENTENCE.

Judge Benedict's Condemnation of a Murderer the Quickest on Record.

One of the most eccentric and at the same time one of the ablest judges that ever sat upon the far western bench was Kirby Benedict, who for thirteen years was a justice of the supreme court of New Mexico, having been first appointed in 1853 by President Pierce and reappointed by President Buchanan, and appointed chief justice of the court by President Lincoln. He was a man of great ability and learning, strong in his prejudices, violent in his passions and relentless in his convictions.

There are many anecdotes told of Judge Benedict. But the crowning act of his judicial career was the sentence of death passed by him upon a prisoner convicted of murder, which sentence was as follows:

"Jose Maria Martin, stand up. Jose Maria Martin you have been indicted, tried and convicted by a jury of your countrymen of the crime of murder, and the court is now about to pass upon you the dread sentence of the law. As a usual thing, Jose Maria Martin, it is a painful duty for the judge of a court of justice to pronounce upon a human being the sentence of death. There is something horrible about it, and the mind of the court naturally revolts from the performance of such a duty. Happily, however, your case is relieved of all such unpleasantness, and the court takes positive delight in sentencing you to death.

"You are a young man, Jose Maria Martin, apparently of good physical constitution and robust health. Ordinarily you might have looked forward to many years of life, and the court has no doubt you have, and have expected to die a green old age; but you are about to be cut off in the consequence of your own act. Jose Maria Martin, it is now the spring time in a little while the grass will be springing up green in these beautiful valleys, and on these broad mesas and mountain sides; flowers will be blooming, birds singing above your lowly head.

"The sentence of the court is that you be taken from this place to the county jail; that you there be kept safely and securely confined in the custody of the sheriff until the day appointed for your execution. Be very careful, Mr. Sheriff, that he have no opportunity to escape, and that you have him at the appointed place at the appointed time; that you be so kept, Jose Maria Martin, until—Mr. Clerk, on what day of the month does Friday about two weeks from this time come?" "March 22, your honor." "Very well—until Friday, the 22d day of March, when you will be taken by the sheriff from your place of confinement to some safe and convenient spot within the county (that is in your discretion, Mr. Sheriff; you are only confined to the limits of the county), and that you there be hanged by the neck until you are dead, and—the court was about to add, Jose Maria Martin, 'may God have mercy on your soul,' but the court will not assume the responsibility of asking an all wise Providence to do that which a jury of your peers has refused to do. The Lord couldn't have mercy on your soul. However, if you have any religious belief, or are connected with any religious organization, it might be well enough for you to send for your priest or your minister and get from him—well, such consolation as you can; but the court advises you to place no reliance upon anything of that kind. Mr. Sheriff, remove the prisoner."—Santa Fe Letter.

English Traveling Amusements. There is now traveling on the line a one armed cornet player, and a capital tune he plays, too. He has an iron hook fixed in the wooden arm, and he attaches the cornet to this, holding it in position to the lips. With the other hand he fingers the trio of keys. Another well known railway musician is the proprietor of a mechanical dancing nigger. It may be said to be one of the most popular entertainments now before the traveling public.

The owner of the figure stands up in the carriage—usually by the door—and in the space in front of him he places a wooden pedestal, on which the little wooden nigger of some two feet in stature faultlessly "steps" to everything, be it a Scotch reel or an Irish breakdown. The proprietor himself introduces the necessary music on a violin. He always has a "full house," for the people crowd into the carriage in which the diminutive darkey is to dance.—London Tit-Bits.

Water Does Not Move with the Wave. There is no necessary connection between the advance of a wave and the forward movement of the water composing it, as may be seen by running the fingers along the keys of a piano. An inverted wave travels along, but the keys merely move up and down. Similarly, a wave may often be observed running along the ripe ears of golden grain while the stalks are firmly rooted in the soil. The onward progress of a sea wave is easily perceptible, and by watching some light substance floating on the surface the fact is revealed that the water is not moving with the same velocity.—Chambers' Journal.

Recovering Tin from Dye Waters. A prize has been given in France by the Society for the Encouragement of National Industry for a process for recovering tin contained in the wash of water from silks which have been treated with bichloride of tin for the purpose of giving weight. By adding milk of lime to the water, and by properly agitating, the tin settles down in a few hours in the state of oxide, which can be readily collected and disposed of.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Since the Paris municipal council dismissed the Sisters of Charity from the city hospitals they have been replaced by nurses who cost 700 francs instead of 200 francs, and are generally "servants who cannot get places elsewhere." The spirit of sacrifice and devotion has all but gone.
